THE DUNGEON AND THE ESCAPE!

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

[ISSUED IN ENGLISH AND GERMAN.]

THIS work embraces the entire narrative of Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years travelling through the South in the Secret Service of the Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, East and West: his thrilling capture and confinement, for twenty months, in seven different rebel prisons; his escape and almost miraculous journey of near 400 miles aided by negroes and Union mountaineers. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work which has yet appeared. One of the most interesting and exciting books ever published. Now ready in both English and German. Sold only by subscription. Address

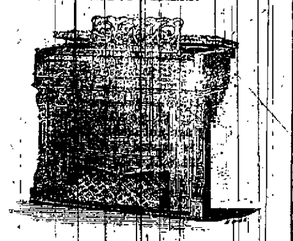
AMERICAN ORGANS

MANUFACTORY,

Tremont, opposite Waltham St.,

BOSTON, MASS.



The most perfect and beautiful Musical Instrument in the world for the American Home Circle.

THE AMERICAN ORGAN makes Home Attractive, and refines and elevates the minds of all. Beautiful in its appearance and effects.

Seventeen--17--First Premiums were awarded to the American Organs IN THE MONTH OF OCTOBER, 1865, over all Competitors, at different State and County Fairs.

First Premium awarded to the American Organs at the Great New York State Agricultural Fair at Rochester, September 1865, over the Whole catalogue exhibited by the most Celebrated Makers.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS are the ONLY REAL REED ORGANS now before the public.—The only Organ having a REVERBERATING SOUND BOX or WIND CHEST—which has the same important part to perform as the Sounding Board has in a Piano Forte to give body and resonance of tone) and without which the Organ becomes merely a Melodeon in an Organ case. The American Organs not only have the Wind-Chest or Sound-Box but have the large Organ Bellows, giving power and great steadiness of tone. These with their extreme fine voicing of the Reeds and perfect tuning of the tone, make them the MOST PERFECT ORGAN KNOWN. When, in fairness of workmanship, finish of action, and case, they excel all others. These great improvements and superiority of tone and workmanship of the AMERICAN ORGANS place them in the first rank as the best, and command a higher price than any other reed instrument in the market. A careful examination of them, in comparison with others, will quickly show their superiority.

Special attention is called to the style of AMERICAN ORGAN, No. 17, containing the Super-Octave Coupler and Sub-Bass. FOR CHURCHES in want of a powerful instrument, whose means are limited, its price renders it very desirable.

EVERY ORGAN IS WARRANTED TO PROVE SATISFACTORY.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS all have the Reverberating Sound-Box, or Wind-Chest, and are finished in the highest style of art, in Rosewood, Jet Walnut, and Oak finish, richly Varnished and Polished, or in Smooth Oil Finish, forming elegant pieces of Furniture for the Parlor or Boudoir; and the Oak and Walnut especially adapted for Churches, Lecture and Lodge Rooms.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS are all finished with our new PATENT Improvements, containing the improved Knee Swell, Double Bellows, two Blow Pedals, and TREMOLO found in no other instrument.

NEW STYLES OF CASES,

Richly Finished and Highly Ornamented.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

"Chloasma, or Mothpatches (also Liverspots), and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than a brunnette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either; and any preparation that will effectually remove them without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. Perry, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless."

Prepared only by B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists in Boston, by Warren L. Allen, Whole sale Agent; price $2.00 per bottle. Country orders promptly supplied.

From Washington—A Rumor that the Tennessee Delegation are to be Admitted to Congress—Address Promulgated by the Fenians in Ireland—A Loan Asked.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

The Herald's Charleston correspondence of the 27th, states that the negroes are generally industriously at work on the plantations and their conduct is spoken of in very favorable terms. The planters are exhibiting a very conciliatory spirit towards the freedmen, paying them good wages and are disposed to throw no obstacles in the way of education.

A large cotton crop in the coming year is confidently expected.

The Tribune's special Washington dispatch says:—

A resolution will be offered in Congress this week, declaring that the members elect from Tennessee are entitled to seats. It is claimed by some of the Tennessee delegation that after a thorough canvass they find a number of votes to pass the resolution.

There is no foundation in the statement that the Secretary of the Treasury has given assurance of the immediate removal of the prohibition of the cattle trade with Canada, though a bill is in preparation giving the Secretary discretionary power to remove such prohibition on cattle importation from any country, when in his opinion the facts warrant it.

The Secretary of the Treasury is in favor of the increase of one hundred millions of the National Banking Capital in case the banks are required to redeem at New York, Boston or Philadelphia.

The Internal Revenue Commissioner recommends a large reduction of the taxes, including the removal of the tax on all printing material, and strongly advocates a tax on cotton.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

Seton Hall College, South Orange, N. J., was nearly destroyed by fire yesterday. No lives lost. The valuable libraries were saved. Building insured $20,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

The address of the council of the Irish Republic dated at Dublin, is published today. It says;

"The work of preparation in Ireland is going on. Do we know our strength? We are not groping in the dark. A point has been reached from which we can see a goal clearly. We call upon you to aid the Irish army of Independence, which will soon stand face to face with the enemy. We ask a loan, which shall be paid within six months after the establishment of Irish Independence.

The address, which is quite lengthy, is endorsed by a card from Col. O'Mahoney urging prompt action by the Fenian Brotherhood.

BOSTON, Jan. 29.

Some excitement was created on State street this morning, when the public were informed of an extensive and successful attempt at forgery by some parties as yet unknown. It was discovered that the following forged checks on Boston brokers were paid at different banks on Saturday.

Two checks on Stone & Dowe, amounting to $5000, were paid at the Merchants National Bank; two checks for $6000 on J. H. Clapp & Co., were paid by the Third National Bank, and two checks amounting to $4800 on J. Hammett, were paid by the Bank of Commerce, making in all, $168,000.

In addition to the above, a forged check for $2400 on E. P. Worster & Co., was presented at the Mount Vernon National Bank, but it was not paid, as there was no stamp on it.

A forged check on J. W. Davis for $2400 was also presented at the Hide & Leather Bank, but payment was refused.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

Arrived—steamers Washington, from Havre; Perrit, from Mobile; Creole, from New Orleans via Havana.

The De Soto, with Secretary Seward and party, arrived at Havana on the 20th.

The Captain General's offer of his country seat for their use was declined, the Secretary going to a hotel, where on the 21st he received a host of admirers, the first of which was the Captain General.

On the 22d, the party visited the cigarette manufactory, and the Messrs. Seward returned the call of the Captain General, and in the evening attended a banquet given by General Dulce at the palace, which, with the surrounding buildings, were illuminated.—The ladies occupied the Captain General's box at Tacon Theatre, where, after the banquet, they were joined by Messrs. Seward.

The professors and students of the University subsequently paid their respects to Mr. Seward, and a number of Cubans in small boats escorted the De Soto to the mouth of the harbor on her departure on the 23d.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

The Commercial says:

Stocks continue weak. The market is strongly bearish, and sellers' options are still put out very largely. The bull side remains passive. The market is probably more largely oversold than for some months, and is apparently quite likely to develope ere long some very interesting corners. At the first board a canard was used very successfully for depressing Erie.

Extensive forgeries of checks on the Chatham Bank have come to light. The checks are handsomely executed, with forgery of the Government stamp and the name of the paying tellers, and that of a respectable firm in the city.

Gold is stronger, partly in consequence of the active demand for customs and partly owing to information favoring the rejection of McCulloch's proposal for a foreign loan. Cash gold is in demand and scarce. Foreign exchange dull.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU BILL PASSED. The Senate, after two weeks debate, passed to-day the Freedmen's Bureau bill. The following is a synopsis of this important bill as it passed and was sent to the House:—

Section 1 provides that the act to establish a Bureau for the relief of freedmen and refugees, approved March 3, 1865, shall continue in force until otherwise provided by law, and shall extend to refugees and freedmen in all parts of the United States; the President may divide the section containing such refugees and freedmen into districts, each district containing one or more States, not to exceed twelve in number, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint an Assistant Commissioner for each of said districts, who shall give bonds and receive the same compensation, and perform the same duties prescribed by this act or the act to which this is an amendment, or said Bureau may, in the discretion of the President, be placed under a Commissioner and Assistant Commissioner to be detailed from the army, in which event each officer so assigned to duty shall serve without increase of pay or allowance.

Section 2 provides for the division of districts into sub-districts and the appointment of clerks, and authorizes the President of the United States to extend military jurisdiction and protection over all its employees, agents, and other officers in the exercise of the duties authorized or imposed on them by this act.

Section 3 authorizes the Secretary of War to issue provisions, fuel, clothing, etc., for refugees and freedmen.

Section 4 authorizes the Presidents to reserve from the sale of farm settlements under the homestead pre-emption laws, and to set apart for the use of freedmen and loyal refugees, male and female, unoccupied public lands in Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas, not exceeding in all three millions of acres of good land, and the Commissioners, under the direction of the President, shall cause the same, from time to time, to be allotted and assigned in parcels not exceeding forty acres each, to the loyal refugees and freedmen, who shall be protected in the use and enjoyment thereof for such term of time, and at such annual rent as may be agreed on between the Commissioners and such refugees or freedmen; the rental shall be based upon the valuation of the land, to be ascertained in such manner as the Commissioners may, under the direction of the President, by regulation prescribe.

Section 5 provides that the possessory titles granted in pursuance of Major General Sherman's Special Field Order, dated at Savannah, January 16, 1865, are hereby confirmed and made valid for the space of three years.

Section 6 provides that the Commissioner shall, under the direction of the President, procure in the name of the United States

WHEELER & LYNDE, PROPRIETOR

WM. H. WHEELER, EDITOR.

Business letters should be addressed to the Publishers. WHEELER & LYNDE

TUESDAY, JAN. 30, 1866.

The E. & N. A. Railway.

The great difficulty in the way of public improvements on the Penobscot River heretofore, has been a want of harmony among its own citizens, and unless something like a general concurrence of opinion in favor of the railroad is secured our citizens may wake up too late to retrieve their error. A Calais writer urges Boston men not to embark anything in the E. & N. A. Railway. If they will hold off, and defeat this line, Calais will get its line into Aroostook, and forever debar Bangor from regaining her lost trade.

We are glad to believe that a majority of our business men, and the City Council, are alive to the true interests of the city. Mayor Stetson, in his inaugural addresses to the City Council, urged the importance of this up river road. Mayor Dale has annually reiterated and strongly enforced the same ideas. Now that the plans are matured, and the means for its construction so nearly reached, it would be suicide to allow the enterprise to fail or falter for want of public support from Bangor.

It was agreed and voted that Bangor would make up a handsome private subscription to the fund. Some men put down liberally. Others who agreed to subscribe, refused. Other parties still, urged the Directors to appeal to the city for further aid, and advised the loan of $2,000,000 of its bonds to the company.

To test the sincerity of Bangor men, the appeal to the City Council was made, and behold! the very men who advised the application, turned round and opposed it. The matter has been thoroughly sifted. The Committee of the Council have heard fully all parties.

What the City government will do, we have no means of knowing, but we think all will agree that the matter has been well ventilated, and all believe that the action of the City Council will meet the public wishes — Without a liberal private subscription or a large city loan, or both, public confidence abroad will be weakened in the enterprise.

If the expected aid from Congress is obtained, and granted and from the States of Maine and Massachusetts secured, the loan of the city credit will be made still more and more secure, if all these grants are made to enure to the benefit of the city loan, as no doubt they will be in the bill to be reported.

The feeling is that the loan of the credit of the city should be liberal in amount, but cautiously used. If, as ten miles are put in operation by the running of cars, a loan of one half the cost is made, no one will object to an additional sum, on the completion of the line to Winn. In this view, private capital will have to supply one half the cost of the line until the other public aid can be reached.

The cry of men who will do nothing to aid the building of the road, is not worth listening to, for a moment. The building of the line, will cause an immediate increase of business, attract capital and business men from abroad, and enhance the value of the city bonds.

A failure of support at Bangor, will cause distrust abroad, and endanger our grants from Congress and the States of Maine and Massachusetts. We desire to remind the Committee of the City Council of the need of early action.

Valuation and Indebtedness of the Cities and Towns.

The Legislature has just put in print the returns of the Treasurers of the cities and towns of the State as required by the law of 1865, showing the financial condition of each. These figures are of interest:—

	Valuation.	War Debt.	Municipal Debt.	Total Debt
Portland,	$28,021,570	$224,500	$821,340	$1,073,846
Bangor,	7,248,775	93,165	169,535	258,700
Bath,	6,502,060	153,450	47,550	201,000
Biddeford,	4,533,003	145,497	108,458	253,955
Lewiston,	4,322,041	98,520	49,950	148,470
Augusta,	3,546,014	18,000	32,000	130,000

Some curious facts are disclosed, showing the high valuation of real estate in certain sections. In Bath, Casine, Searsport, Stockton, Buckspart and other old towns, the personal property is in excess of the valuation of real estate. But in Cumberland County the advance of real estate has been such as to show it to be largely in excess of personal.

	Personal Estate.	Real Estate.
Portland,	$12,990,470	$15,031,100
Westbrook,	407,946	1,012,211
Cape Elizabeth	153,916	1,346,875
Gorham,	278,469	1,522,860
Cumberland,	33,758	217,658
Falmouth,	94,113	307,134

The rise of real estate in Portland has been no greater than in the surrounding towns since the completion of the Montreal Railway.

THE TRIAL OF JEFFERSON DAVIS. As long as nothing is done in Congress relative to the case of Jefferson Davis, it is quite safe to assume that no very definite arrangements have been made for his trial. Something may have been done, however, in the premises, and there is a possibility of truth in the following statements of the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer:

Mr. William M. Evarts has at last settled down to the work of preparing for the trial of Jefferson Davis, and is "not at home" to visitors, being engaged in overhauling the records of trials for treason since the days of the Stuarts. The government, it is said, pays Mr. Evarts a fee of one hundred thousand dollars in this case, a sum which is not an exorbitant charge for professional services, when it is considered that his business is now over fifty thousand dollars per year, and must suffer to a great extent during his preparations for and attendance on the trial of the President of the late confederacy.

—Letters received from the most prominent Canadian merchants say that if the United States refuse to renew the Reciprocity Treaty, Canada will be compelled either to apply for admission into the Union or starve. They also predict that within two months after the abrogation of the treaty, real estate in Canada will decline fifty per ct. in value.

JOHN BRIGHT ON BRITISH REFORM PROSPECTS. In his Rochdale speech Mr. Bright said:

"I lament deeply that Lord Russell is not at this moment a member of the House of Commons. I think in that House on this question of Reform he would have had much more influence than he can have as a member of the House of Lords. Much, however, depends upon him, and I am not sure with regard to the measure which is coming that everything does not depend upon him. He may, if he chooses, gather fresh strength. If he listens to the ancestral voices which speak to him of the past, or if at times he seems to look to his future fame, he may draw an inspiration and a fire that will give him strength in this most critical period of his public career. There are times when what is called caution is feebleness and ruin. There are times when the highest boldness is the highest prudence and the greatest wisdom. I believe this is a time when, if Lord Russell will take up this question with the firmness which distinguished him thirty years ago, and will rely upon the good feeling, good sense, and the generous support of Parliament and the people, he will carry this measure to a triumphant success.

But two things are possible—I am not sure that that they are not clear. One is that, if this question is treated with a feeble hand the government will fall; and the other is that if this government fall, presided over by the most eminent statesman now living of the Whig party, we are likely to see the entire extinction of the Whigs as a governing party in the affairs of this country. But whether the government are equal to the cause which we espouse, which I am endeavoring to defend, is nevertheless quite safe. It has within it an indestructible life. Feebleness or treachery may retard it for a time, but cannot prevent its final and its early triumph. There is in a poem which I read with great pleasure many years ago—the "Faerie Queene"—a line which I think may teach us something in our present position:

"No fort so feasible, no walls so strong,
But that continual battery will rive."

I feel certain that the fort of selfishness and monopoly cannot be held forever, and that the walls of privilege cannot through all time resist the multitude that are gathering to the assault. In all the nations of the world this day I believe the powers of good are gaining steadily on the powers of evil. I think it is eminently and happily so in this country. Let us take courage, then.—We are endeavoring by constitutional means to compass a great constitutional end—to make the Parliament not only the organ of the will, but the honest and faithful guardian of all classes in the country. It is a great and noble purpose which we have set ourselves to do, but it is a purpose which cannot fail if we are true to it and ourselves."

Ho! For the Sea Islands!

THE undersigned, having made arrangements with the United States Mutual Protection Homestead Company of Washington D C, desires to raise a colony of fifty enterprising energetic young men, (among his friends and acquaintances if possible), to settle upon a tract of Sea Island lands about 20 miles from Hilton Head, South Carolina, during the coming month. The Company (of which 1st Assistant Postmaster General Randall is President, and Senator Pomeroy, of Kansas, Vice President), have leased 10,000 acres of valuable improved Sea Island cotton lands in that locality at a very low rent, with a long time for purchase. They will sub-lease these lands to northern emigrants, who possess from $500 to $1000, at a small advance, and will give credit to each settler for such provisions, stock, tools &c, as he may need to cultivate his first crop of 100 acres. Help can be secured among the freedmen at low rates. Ordinary upland cotton is now worth 62 cents per pound, and Sea Island cotton from $1 25 to $1 50, with little or none to be had at that. This opening is one that rarely comes more than once in a lifetime, for an ordinary crop will pay all expenses, and leave a surplus of from $300 to $500 the first season on every 100 acres of land. With a colony of fifty in one body, we shall carry New England society institutions, and security with us. No time is to be lost. To insure a full crop, cotton should be planted in March, or the first week in April.

A Bill Reported in Congress to Extend the Reciprocity Treaty.

Report and Estimates of the Revenue Commission.

From South America.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.

A communication was sent to the Senate to-day by the President, that it was inconsistent with the public interests to furnish the letters of Gen'l Sheridan and other officers on the Rio Grande, relative to any violations of the neutrality laws.

The Supreme Court to-day, in a bridge case, decided that the power under the Constitution, to regulate commerce, extends to all navigable rivers, and does not stop at State lines, and that bridges are in the character of ferries.

A preliminary report on the Reciprocity Treaty was furnished to the members of Congress to-day. A draft of a bill is appended extending the present treaty for one year from the 17th of next March, on condition that Canada shall repeal duties and taxes on salt, cars, locomotives, vehicles of all kinds, machinery, furniture, tools, implements, soap, starch, boots, shoes, leather, horses, hoofs, horseshoe nails, harness, tacks, beads, watches, music, musical instruments, clocks, carpets and wooden ware, muslins, delaines, cotton shawls, satinetts, sheathings and shirtings, with all less than one dollar a pound, and all other internal tax and duty on spirits to accord 15 cts per gallon (wine measure) and to continue her free ports on the lakes Huron and Superior.

It also provides that the United States impose any internal taxes on the production of the provinces which they lay upon their own products of the same kind.

The president is authorized to appoint two commissioners to negotiate a reciprocity treaty, whose duty it will be to provide for the permanent security of the fisheries, free interchange of products, regulate commerce, and other matters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.

The report of the Revenue Commission laid before Congress, makes various recommendations and presents forms of bills for the better enforcement of the revenue laws, and suggests increased sources of revenue.—The Commission also appends reports on tea coffee, cotton, sugar and molasses to that date. The Secretary of the Treasury approves all their recommendations with the exception of the time at which the payment of the principal of the public debt should commence

The Commercial's special Washington dispatch says—

Secretary Seward had an interview with Santa Anna on Mexican affairs. The hostility of the Mexican leader to the Empire argues a degree of significance to the meeting.

General Sheridan cannot attend the conference of Generals, as his presence is necessary on the Rio Grande.

Generals Grant, Sherman, Meade and Thomas are in Washington.

The President has deferred issuing a formal Proclamation declaring the restoration of the Union until the opinions of Generals Grant, Sherman, Meade, Thomas, Sheridan, Sickles and others could be obtained relative to the submission of the Southern States to the constitutional authorities.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

The report of the Revenue Commission recommends a revision of the present revenue system looking to the entire exemption of the manufacturing industry of the United States from all direct taxation, distilled or fermented liquors, tobacco and a few other articles excepted. This should be done gradually as experience satisfies of our ability to substitute other and objectionable means of taxation.

The commission after making allowance for a possible reduction of duties and increase of the free list estimate the revenue from customs for the years 1867 at one hundred and thirty millions. They recommend a reduction of the tax on distilled spirits from two dollars to one dollar, and estimate at that rate a revenue of forty millions from that source. The tax on fermented liquors of one dollar per barrel of 31 gallons, they recommend shall remain.

Cotton should be taxed 5 cents per pound after July next, giving on a crop of 300,000 bales a revenue of $66,000,000, and on a crop of 4,000,000 $88,000,000. As the crop of the present year will not probably be less than two million bales, they estimate the revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1867, at forty million dollars, and for the future an average revenue of at least fifty millions.

Regarding tobacco, they are unanimous that the tax should not be on the leaf.—With some amendment of the present law, and exhausting of old stocks, they expect a revenue of eighteen millions from manufactured tobacco.

With respect to incomes, they recommend the abrogation of all discrimination in the rate levied on incomes above and under $5000, and that in future assessments $1000 be exempted from taxation, without allowance for house rent, or at least that amount for house rent shall not exceed $300. They expect a revenue from this source of fifty millions. They recommend a repeal of the tax on crude petroleum, and that the rates on refined coal oil, petroleum, naptha, benzine, &c., be retained as at present. The revenue from this source is estimated at $3,000,000.

The Commissioners oppose the total remission of the tax on turpentine and rosin, and favor the allowance of one drawback on their export. The revenue from this source is estimated at $2,000,000; From matches they estimate a revenue of $50,000,000; from stamps $20,000,000; from legacy duties $3,000,000; from expresses and telegraph companies 5 per cent. on the gross receipts of each, $9,000,000; on sales; the tax on which they recommend to be reduced to one hundredth of one per cent., at $4,000,000; on banks $15,000,000; on licenses $16,000,000; on salaries $2,000,000; from miscellaneous sources $21,000,000, &c.

The local revenue is estimated at four hundred and thirty-five millions.

After paying all the expenditures of the fiscal year, including interest on public debt and setting aside fifty millions for the reduction of its principal, a surplus of eighty-five millions will remain applicable for the reduction of taxation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

The report of the United States Revenue Commisson is furnished to-night. It is filled with interesting statistical information and makes the following recommendations:

That a tax of 5 cents per pound be levied on all cotton raised in the United States from and after July 2, 1866—that the tax on cotton consumed in the United States be levied on manufacturers, and that exported upon merchants at the port of export, no vessel to be allowed a clearance without a certificate that the tax has been paid; also that a drawback on cotton fabrics to the full amount of the cotton be allowed.

That all cotton goods exported be exempt from other excise taxes—that so long as there shall be a tax upon American raw cotton there shall be a specific duty on all imported cotton fabrics of as many cents per pound as are levied upon raw cotton.

The commission also recommends a duty upon mixed fabrics imported of one-half the tax upon raw cotton where the fabric is one-half cotton or less, those more than half cotton to pay full duty. A bill embodying the above recommendations is appended the report.

Thirty-Ninth Congress.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.

Senate.

Mr. Grimes offered a joint resolution tendering the thanks of Congress to Rear Admiral Farragut, officers and men under him, for gallant conduct in the engagement in Mobile bay.

Referred.

Mr. Sherman offered a bill which was referred, authorizing the President to appoint, at the request of any College capable of educating 150 young men, a military officer to act as President, or superintendent, to give instruction in military service.

Mr. Sherman, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill to grant a million acres for the use of the public schools in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Wilson called up the bill to restrict the amount for the collection of soldiers' claims to ten dollars.

A resolution was introduced and referred to the reconstruction Committee, that no state or territory shall make any distinction between citizens on account of race or color and all citizens regardless of race or color shall be protected in the full and equal enjoyment and exercise of all civil and political rights, including suffrage.

A bill was introduced increasing the number of cadets and raising the standard of admission to the military academy.

Mr. Trumbull called up the bill for the protection of all persons in their civil rights and offered an amendment—to insert the following words after the enacting clause: "that all persons of African descent born in the United States are hereby declared to be citizens."

Mr. Trumbull spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Saulsbury followed Mr. Trumbull opposing the bill.

The Senate then went into executive session.

Adjourned.

House.

The House passed the resolution heretofore offered, commending the President's refusal of carriage and horses from friends in New York, and expressing the sense of the House, that the practice of giving presents for appointments or promotion, is demoralizing and ought to be prohibited.

Mr. Julian offered a resolution, which went over, that the people demand the trial of Jeff Davis for treason, and his execution if found guilty.

Gen. Sherman being in the hall a recess of five minutes was declared. The Speaker conducted him to the Speaker's chair, and introduced him by appropriate remarks, to which Gen. Sherman replied.

Mr. Washburne proposed three cheers, which were enthusiastically given.

Debate on the Constitutional amendment was then taken up.

Mr. Raymond made a speech against it.

Mr. Julian followed.

The previous question was then ordered.

Adjourned.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

—Thanks to our friend Col. Boynton, of the Senate, for Legislative documents.

DAMAT TREAT'S FALLS. The feeling in this city and vicinity seems to be unanimous and decided, that the application of the Penobscot Mill Dam Company for further powers, should be granted. The interests involved, of the improvement of the navigation of the river and of the creation of a great water power, are too large to be postponed for any individual or minor consideration.

FOR THE SEA ISLANDS. Attention is called to the advertisement in appropriate columns of Capt. A. D. Brock, late of the 31st Maine Volunteers, and formerly a resident of this city. His scheme of emigration has a most plausible look, and appears to be under the auspices of responsible parties. As we must look to Northern emigration South for the immediate infusion of correct ideas in that latitude, our sympathies are naturally with these enterprises, albeit we would not be understood as counseling people who have comfortable homes there to go abroad for better ones. Read what the Captain has to say.—[Times.

Messrs. Wheeler & Lynde:

GENTLEMEN—Being present at the late meeting of the Trustees of the State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, in Augusta, and knowing of and in part a personal witness of the struggle in relation to the place in which to locate said College, I feel it a duty to say a word in commendation of those who felt that the claims of the East were paramount to those of the western part of the State; and as there were but two places recommended, (viz.: Topsham and Orono,) for their efforts in securing its location in Orono.

In this regard our late Vice President, Hon. H. Hamlin, stands pre-eminent. True to the East, as he is and ever has been to the interest of the whole State—when he saw the manifest disposition to carry this institution west of the Kennebec, where were now located all the Literary Institutions of the State—with no single exception, he boldly denounced the design as wrong, and gross injustice to the East, all other things being equal. His remarks before the Board were practical, logical and truly eloquent. Probably no other man could have said or done as much. To his powerful influence and just appreciation of the claims of the Penobscot Valley, are we more indebted for the honor and great advantages hoped for by this institution, than to any other one individual.—Besides, he has subscribed one thousand dollars for the College. Mr. Everett of Milo, and Mr. Farwell of Rockland, were also very active, earnest and true to the East. Messrs. Hill of Bucksport, Day of Damariscotta, Moore of Somerset, Cummings of Aroostook, and Woodman of Waldo—each and all—did their duty, and sustained the claims of the East.

In justice to the whole Board, I will add, when fairly out-voted, at an adjourned meeting, the location was made unanimous, and the utmost good feeling and earnest interest prevailed, and the following resolution was adopted—each member answering to his name—Yeas 15, nays none:

"Whereas, By a majority of the votes of the Trustees present, it has been decided to locate the State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts at Orono, (provided certain conditions are complied with now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the Board of Trustees assent to said decision and pledge their faithful endeavors for its advancement and prosperity." Yours,

S. W.

—A new Post Office has been established at Molukus, in Aroostook county, and Hugh Reed has been appointed Postmaster. Augusta R. Mayo, Assistant.

—The Portland Star states that J. T. Willman, Esq., editor of the Portland Press, has sold out his interest in that paper to his partner, Mr. Foster, vacating also the editorial chair.

—Brevet Brig. Gen. James A. Hall has been ordered to Georgia, in connection with the Freedmen's Bureau. Gen. Hall formerly commanded the 2d Maine Battery, and proved himself one of the most gallant soldiers of the war.

—A correspondent of The Portland Argus, writing from Augusta under recent date, says:—"The hearing for the new telegraph line is now going on—John A. Peters and Bion Bradbury for the old line, and Judge Davis for petitioners. How it will go is not now apparent. Peters is a dangerously good-natured, agreeable, and taking man, and Bion has the cool management of a veteran politician. Bad men to 'head off'—Judge Davis is a new man on Committees, with little magnetism and no management. He relies entirely upon the merits of the case, and as these are questionable, he is not regarded as having a first Class Show."

AN OFFICER SUFFOCATED. Col. C. A. Morgan, Inspector General of Gen'l Pope's Department of Missouri, was suffocated to death at St. Louis a few nights since, by the escape of coal gas from a stove in his sleeping-room. He belonged in Cincinnati.

—The Connecticut Democratic Convention is called to meet at Hartford, on the 7th of February, to nominate a State ticket.—That of New Hampshire at Concord, on the same day.

THE SCHUYLER FRAUD CASE. The case of Robert Schuyler and others vs. the New York and New Haven Railroad, otherwise known in the New York courts as the Omnibus suit, was decided in December by the Court of Errors of New York, the court of last resort in that State, in favor of the plaintiff. The Judges awarded to the plaintiffs judgment and costs to the amount of $900,000. The case can go no farther, and the company have now made arrangements to pay the judgment.

—The entertaining Washington correspondent of The Evening Times has the following in his letter of the 25th inst.

"The Soldiers' and Sailors' National League are having spirited meetings here. The organization is of considerable benefit in this District, and probably wherever branches of it are organized. The speech of Gen'l Butler, before the League, night before last, had all the fire that distinguishes that gentleman's speeches. He strongly favored the division of Southern lands among soldiers of the National Army, saying—'Let us cross the Potomac, begin at Arlington, and go South.' He should be modest about journeys in that direction.

Col. Henry Cunningham, of the 19th Me., who last summer purchased a large quantity of land near the Bull Run battlefield, has taken up his residence there. He will offer great inducements to Maine families to settle in the vicinity.

The subject of building a new Executive Mansion east of the Capitol, where the fathers of the Republic expected the business part of the city would be, continues to receive attention. One building Association, owning a great amount of real estate in that portion of the city, offers the Government eleven acres of land, splendidly located one mile east of the Capitol, for a building spot. If this offer is accepted, one of the distinguished gentlemen connected with the Bangor Theological Seminary—Prof. Talcott—will grow suddenly rich, if not already so, as he owns some 7000 feet of land which will have to be included in the lot. The opposition to the new house comes from owners of real estate in the vicinity of the present one; but a part of this difficulty will be removed by fitting the old edifice up to take the place of the State Department building, soon to be torn down."

It is confidently stated that six or seven hundred Treasury clerks are to have their pitiful salaries stopped after this month. As many new ones—commissioned officers in the late army—will take their places."

SUDDEN DEATH. Mr. Jacob Savage, 73 years of age, one of our oldest citizens, died very suddenly, while at the supper table, on Wednesday evening, 24th inst. He appeared in his usual health but a few minutes before.—[Skowhegan Clarion.

A lad named Frank Tozier, 18 years old, accidentally skated over the eastern dam a few days since, falling 18 feet. His fortunately escaped severe injury, but it is a feat one would not care to repeat.—[Lewiston Journal.

—The Galveston Bulletin says there are two kinds of newspapers, which are equally unwise and equally injurious to public sentiment. The first is that which misrepresents Southern sentiments and slanders Southern men. The second class is comprised of those papers who represent the negro as idle, lazy and vicious—who seek to sink him still lower in the general estimation, and at the same time to raise up a sentiment averse to Northern men.

The Great Worm Remedy.

It has been said by more than one eminent physician that more sickness among children is the result of Pin Worms than all other causes;—that worms imitate the symptoms of most other diseases, often producing fatal results, without being suspected. From this cause of so much sickness, every family have an effectual remedy, by procuring a bottle of Dr. E. G. Gould's Pin Worm Syrup.

It will remove ordinary stomach worms oftener than any of the nostrums in the market, and for Pin Worms it has no equal. It will relieve children or adults from all annoyance in twenty-four hours, and effect an entire cure when taken according to directions. It is a mild cathartic, and can be given to the youngest child with perfect safety. It improves the health by removing all impurities from the system.

THESE GANG SAW GAUGES are superior to any other now in use. They save two thirds of the time over any of the old kinds, in changing, being made in sections varying from one fourth of an inch, to three inches, and can be varied to any desired dimensions with perfect accuracy.

THEY ARE CHEAPER AND MORE DURABLE

Than any other, give a better bearing upon the saws, holds them firmer; and in two months will pay their cost in time saved by changing, to say nothing of their convenience in being varied to any dimensions required.

To Whom it May Concern.

THIS MAY CERTIFY that we have been using the past season Tracy's Patent IMPROVED GAUGES, for hanging gang saws, and do not hesitate to say that the time saved in changing gauges during one season, will double compensate for the expense. The gauges are so arranged in sections that they may be changed to any desirable thickness in a very few minutes, and with perfect correctness. They are very durable, not likely to get out of order, and hold the saws much firmer than the old kind of gauges. We recommend them to owners of gang mills as being a time and money-saving invention. HAMPDEN ACADEMY.

THE SPRING TERM of this Institution will commence on MONDAY, Feb. 19, and continue eleven weeks, under the old Board of Instructors:

W. H. LAMBERT, A. B., Principal.
Miss RUTH BABCOCK, Preceptress.
Miss LIZZIE CROSBY, Teacher of Drawing, Painting, &c.
Miss CLARA C. HILL, Teacher of Music.
H. M. FOSS, Teacher of Penmanship.

This is one of the oldest Institutions of learning in the State—having been incorporated in 1803—and has constantly enjoyed a most deserved popularity, which it is the effort of the present Instructors to sustain.

The Academy is pleasantly situated between the villages of Upper and Lower Hampden, on an elevated and healthful situation, sufficiently retired from the business parts of the villages to make it a very desirable place for study. The school rooms are commodious, and have of late been refitted in the most approved manner.

The villages of Hampden offer to Students resorting here, the various advantages of good society, several meetings of public worship, good boarding places, and very easy access from almost every quarter.

Boarding places can be secured, and further particulars had, on addressing the Principal.

Instruction will be eminently practical in such studies as Book-Keeping, Surveying, &c. The principles of the Natural Sciences will be suitably illustrated. Navigation, and the higher branches of Mathematics will be thoroughly taught; and those preparing to teach will receive especial attention.

Especial care will also be bestowed upon those pursuing the Ancient Languages preparatory to entering College, or otherwise.

Those studying the Modern Languages will have the benefit of a most thorough and accomplished Teacher in that department.

As the Academy is provided with a well-furnished Laboratory, those pursuing the subject of Chemistry will here receive a most important advantage.

A well-selected Library of about six hundred volumes, is open to the use of Students, and furnishes valuable means for reading and reference.

THE EVENING WIND.

BY WM. C. BRYANT.

Spirit that breathest through my lattice, thou
That coolest the twilight of the sultry day!
Gratefully flowing by freshness round my brow:
Thou hast been out upon the deep at play,
Riding all day the wild blue waves till now,
Rousing the shrill crests, and scattering high their spray,
And swelling the white sail. I welcome thee
To the scorched land, thou wanderer of the sea!

Nor I alone—a thousand bosoms round
Inhale thee in the fulness of delight;
And languid forms rise up, and pulses bound
Livelier, at once coming of the wind of night;
And languishing to hear thy welcome sound,
Lies the vast inland, stretched beyond the sight.
Go forth into the gathering shade; go forth,—
God's pleasing breathed upon the fainting earth!

Go, rock the little wood-bird in his nest,
Curl the still waters, bright with stars, and rave
The wild old wood from his majestic rest,
Summoning, from the innumerable boughs,
The strange, deep harmonies that haunt his breast:
Pleasant shall be thy way where meekly bows
The shutting flower, and darkling waters pass,
And where the o'ershadowing branches sweep the grass.

Stoop o'er the place of graves and softly sway
The sighing herbage by the gleaming stone,
That they who near the churchyard willows stray,
And listening to the descending gloom alone,
May think of gentle souls that passed away,
Like thy pure breath, into the vast unknown,
Sent forth from heaven among the sons of men,
And gone into the boundless heaven again.

The faint old man shall lean his silver head
To feel thee; thou shalt kiss the child asleep,
And dry the moistened curls that overspread
His temples, while his breathing grows more deep:
And they who stand about the sick men's bed,
Shall joy to listen to thy distant sweep,
And soften with the dream his fevered brow.
Thy visit, grateful to his burning brow.

Go—but the circle of eternal change,
Which is the life of nature, shall restore,
With season and season from all thy mighty range,
Thee to thy birth place of the deep once more,
Sweet odors in the sea-air, sweet and strange
Shall tell the home-sick mariner of the shore,
And, listening to thy murmur, he shall deem
He hears the rustling leaf and running stream.

GEN. BUTLER ON GEN. LEE. In the address before the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, at Washington, on Tuesday evening Gen. Butler said:—

There was once a soldier of the country, bearing one of its proudest names, in marrying into a family which the country delighted to honor, who had received from a country grateful for the deeds of its ancestors the highest education which it could afford to give; who had been the petted soldier of the country, beloved by its commander-in-chief—almost the staff of his old age. When disorder and civil commotions and rebellions broke out the old chief leaned upon the younger soldier as upon his staff—made him the confidant of his secrets and the depository of his plans. But suddenly that soldier departed from the ranks of his country's service, and within two days of the time when his resignation was accepted was found fighting in the ranks of the enemy, and in a higher command.

During a long and bloody war he saw his former fellow-officers and soldiers starved in prison under his very eye—saw that from very desperation they burrowed out through the ground—and never raised a voice in their behalf, although his word was omnipotent, and although the enemy depended wholly on his sword. He saw the officers and soldiers of the country that reared and honored him murdered by thousands, in the prisons, and never said a word in their behalf. At last, after every means of resistance had failed; after having carried on a war which he knew to be hopeless, and after having fought his army until he diminished it to 7200 muskets, he surrendered at last after writing a note to the commander of the opposite army, stating "frankly" he did not consider the time of surrender had come. That man is now a teacher of the youth of the country, to tell them their duty to their flag, their country, and their God. If this is to be so, fellow-soldiers, have we not shed our blood in vain, and are not our lost comrades simply murdered, uselessly murdered, without hope in this world, and only with hope in the resurrection.

And yet there has not been strength enough in this government so far—a government that could put a million men in the field at once, and that did in the last campaign put into the field one million six hundred thousand men—to bring that man to trial and ascertain whether or not treason is a crime and ought to be punished.

I have not yet spoken of another and greater—no, another and different—criminal. I am now speaking of a man who I think can be tried by a military commission, and to which all the people will say amen. But it to you, fellow-soldiers, as military men, whether deserting the flag of our nation and taking service two days afterward in the ranks of the enemy is not a military crime, for which a man is amenable to a military tribunal? I think there can be no doubt upon that question. I would like to see him tried for that military offense. I do not think that any subsequent parole, got out of too much credulity that the time had not come to surrender the Northern army of Virginia, would be a good plea. I desire to see that man tried so that it may be understood hereafter that it is death upon the gallows for any man to desert his flag and take service with the enemies of his country. [Great applause.]

REPUTATION OF AMERICAN AUTHORS IN ENGLAND. A correspondent of the Nation writes from England an entertaining letter respecting the comparative fame in England of American writers. We copy an extract:

"It was my second Sunday in England. I was spending a part of the day at the house of a literary man, whose name (if I should mention it, which I shall not) would be recognized as a house-hold word wherever the English language is spoken. I was showing to him a little circle of his friends my photograph album of American celebrities; and when we came to a certain face, they said, 'Who is that?' I replied 'Oliver Wendell Holmes.' 'Who is he?' 'Why Dr. Holmes—did you never hear of him?' 'Never.' I confess that then, for the first time, I felt a little homesick. That word gave me, indeed, a sense of being abroad."

M. D. Conway told me he had talked with a poor man in Venice who, he ascertained, had no knowledge of Daniel Webster, but was acquainted with the name and deeds of old John Brown. So I have found in England that, among the mass of the people—among those, for example, who make up a lecturer's audience at the literary and mechanics' institutes of the country—any reference to our great statesmen, jurists, and scholars of the time just gone, to Andrew Jackson, Webster, Clay, Story, Choate, Felton, requires explanation, while the mention of the names of philanthropists and reformers, especially of Garrison and Phillips, is generally caught up with instant appreciation and responded to with enthusiasm.

We find here a perpetual source of amusement in the very mixed apprehensions people have of the two most celebrated members of the Beecher family. Everybody knows Mrs. Stowe, and calls her Mrs. Beecher Stowe. Everybody knows Henry Ward Beecher, and nearly everybody calls him Mr. Beecher Stowe. There is a confused idea of some very near relationship between these individuals. It is generally stated that she is his wife, sometimes his daughter, occasionally his mother. seldom—what she is. I do not exaggerate in saying that, in nine cases out of ten, Henry Ward Beecher's name is by Englishmen enriched with the suffix of Stowe. Only a few weeks ago the Times, in whose eyes he is of course a peculiarly endeared Yankee, took quite the opposite tack and got its cart completely before the horse, by speaking of him as Mr. Beecher Ward.

Excluding from these remarks the small minority of English people who are really acquainted with our history and literature, in travelling up and down England I seldom meet with any one who has heard of George W. Curtis, Dr. Holland, John G. Saxe, Col. Higginson, Gail Hamilton, Bayard Taylor, Tuckerman, and Thomas B. Aldrich, whom we know so well, but whose names, pronounced before a general English audience would be no more recognized than the names of so many under secretaries of the Tycoon. The supreme American literary reputation in England is that of Longfellow. His renown has diffused itself into every household; his poems are in every drawing room; he has more readers than any living English poet. He is the one only American literary name that may be mentioned in all companies with as much certainty of recognition as the name Shakespeare, though even with the name of Shakespeare it would not be safe to go below a tide mark of society. During the Shakesperian festival, last year, a London omnibus driver, by whose side I was sitting, whose daily journeys took him under the very walls of Apsley House and Buckingham Palace, gravely asked me 'Who is the fellow Shakespeare they're making such a row about?' My impression is, that next to Longfellow in fame on British soil is Washington Irving, although an English lady of wealth and literary proclivities once inquired of me whether that was 'the Irving so attracted so much notice as an eccentric preacher in London thirty years ago!'

Next in renown to Longfellow and Irving, and in about the order given, are the names of Hawthorne, Emerson, Prescott, Lowell, Dr. Channing, Bryant and Theodore Parker. I am surprised to find how many there are who do not know Whittier. It would be wrong to omit Elihu Burritt, who is every where known in England, and for whom there is an affectionate regard among multitudes of the poorest and best. He has passed many years here; he has lectured in nearly every town and village he has gone on foot through the whole length of this island; and by the simplicity, beauty and amiability of his nature, by his learning, by his calm thinking, by his modest yet glowing speech, has not only made fame for himself but has done much to change English estimate of the American character.

RECONSTRUCTION OF THE LEVEES IN LOUISIANA. The New Orleans correspondent of the Boston Post writes:

The leading event of the day in Louisiana is the practical inauguration of the work of permanently reconstructing the levees by the Federal Government. Sometime since, two experienced engineers, Gen. Humphreys and Major Wheeler, were sent out to make the necessary surveys. They were ordered to put themselves en rapport, with Gen. Canby, commanding the department, and that gentleman, as well as the State authorities, furnished them every facility. Indeed, the engineering work had already been commenced by Gov. Wells before their arrival, and it has now so far progressed that proposals for the immediate reconstruction of those cut by Gen. Grant during the seige of Vicksburg, have been issued. They are those which protected the entire upper portion of the State comprising some of the richest cotton-growing lands of the southwest. Of these, Gen. Humphreys has the superintendence, while Major Wheeler is industriously at work on those lower down, but by order of Gen. Banks, during his operations at Morganzia. These last protect a vast extent of valuable sugar lands, and proposals for rebuilding them, also, will soon be out. The specification are very explicit, and contemplate work of the most comprehensive and permanent character. The bed of the levees is to be ploughed down, leveled, and firmly settled on a broad base; all stumps grubbed up, and vegetable matter removed, and such heights and slopes given to the structure as in each locality may be judged necessary. The federal authorities agree to furnish such implements as are on hand at the depot here, and to pay so much per cubic yard immediately upon the completion and acceptance of the work. The time allowed is the 15th of March, and if damage by high water occurs to the newly made levees by reason of their non completion at that date, the contractor forfeits all the money due him. I understand from those who are competent to judge of the work, that the total expense will be about half a million of dollars. In the meantime the State and Parish authorities, as well as individual planters, are busily engaged upon such additional works as properly belong to them, and the prospect now is that our whole system of levees will be fully and skillfully completed by the return of the next planting season.

With these reassuring promises for the future our planters are busily engaged with preparations for the next season. Considerable quantities of new machinery and new draught animals are being distributed about, and everything put in readiness for the coming seedtime. With the prospect of continuing high prices for cotton, as large an amount as we have soil and labor for, will be put in, while all the available seed cane will also be used. As compared with former years, both of our great staple crops will necessarily be small, for, as that we can do, it will take years yet to bring back our peculiar agriculture to its former prosperity."

NEWSPAPER INFLUENCE.—A correspondent of the German Reformed Messenger mentions the impression produced upon a traveler from Europe while in a Western city, by witnessing the eagerness of Americans for newspapers. He says:

"He hastily approached me with eyes gleaming with admiration and delight. 'What a wonderful race the American people are!' was his earnest outburst. 'Every man with his newspaper? See the drayman there, sitting on his dray, eagerly reading his newspaper; and that huckman, mounted on his perch, with his whip on his knee, diving into his newspaper, and yonder that laborer, stopping on the corner to buy his newspaper, and see that paver, repairing the levee, with a newspaper just sticking out of his pocket, where he has just placed it for further reading as he has leisure. So I have seen in every American town and city. There is nothing like it in Europe. No other people through all its ranks, can be so thoroughly versed in the current information of the country and the world. Wonderful people these American people,' was his pointed summing up, as if to sink upon the profound prophecy embodied in this popular phrase and fact. This expression brings up to view the vast educational value and effect of the newspaper, secular or religious in American society, touching our social, civil, or individual interests, moulding and fashioning national, social and political character."

New York Life Insurance Co.,

112 AND 114 BROADWAY.

THIS is one of the oldest institutions of the kind in America, having been chartered in 1841, and commenced business in May, 1845.

EVERY ONE SHOULD ENSURE.

While we live we may protect those dependent upon us; but when death severs the tie of all others most dear, it is a consolation to know that our prudence and foresight have made provision for the wants to which we can no longer minister; and the man who has the power, but neglects the opportunity of providing in this way for the comfort and independence of his family, fails in the duty which he owes to them and himself. Therefore, let every one who has not obtained a policy of Insurance upon his life, no longer neglect this imperative duty. GREAT CARE SHOULD BE MANIFESTED IN THE SELECTION OF A COMPANY. The

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Offers the following highly important essentials:

It is a strictly Mutual Company;
It has had Twenty Years' Business Experience;
It has a large Accumulated Assets;
It gives Liberal Assistance in the Payment of Premiums;
Its Dividends are declared Annually;
It is prompt in the Payment of all Losses;

IN FACT,

Special care in the selection of its risks, strict economy, and a safe and judicious investment of its funds, emphatically characterize the management of this company.

TEN-YEAR NON-FORFEITING POLICIES.

The New York Life Insurance Company originated, and was the first to bring before the public, the Ten-Year Non-Forfeiture Plan, which has so highly commended itself to the judgment of thinking men that it has become the most popular mode of insurance, and is rapidly superceding the old method of lifelong payment. It has received THE UNQUALIFIED APPROVAL OF THE BEST BUSINESS MEN OF THE LAND, large numbers of whom have taken out policies under it as an investment.

TEN YEAR NON-FORFEITING PLAN.

A party ensuring by this table after the second year, cannot forfeit any part of what has been paid in, and his policy becomes a source of income to him while living.

ANOTHER NEW FEATURE.

TEN YEAR NON-FORFEITURE ENDOWMENT POLICIES.

The New York Life Insurance Company have recently prepared A NEW TABLE, BY WHICH THE PREMIUMS CAN ALL BE PAID IN TEN YEARS AND THE NON-FORFEITURE BENEFIT ALSO SECURED. These policies are coming into general request. As a sure and profitable investment for ones declining years, they deserve the attention of all. A party ensuring by this table the amount is received by the assured himself, upon his attaining a specified age, while full provision is made for death occurring prior thereto.

DR. KNIGHTS'

Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments this article, as it is now presented to the public is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who, from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey: and others, who, in the severe and yellow leaf of life, would reclaim, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. DR. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.
